

2013 Occupational Analysis Kick-off

Wanted: California Licensed Acupuncturists

Attention Acupuncturists! Are you interested in helping to define your profession? The Acupuncture Board is working with the Department of Consumer Affairs; Office of Professional Examination Services (OPES) to conduct an Occupational Analysis (OA) of your profession. As a licensed Acupuncturist, this is an opportunity to play a significant role in the process.

An OA is conducted to define the tasks performed on the job and the knowledge base needed to perform those tasks. Results of the OA will be used to update and improve the Acupuncture Licensing Program examinations.

How can you help?

Sign up to participate in the OA as a Subject Matter Expert (SME)!

What would be required of you?

Interviews – In January 2014, we will need Acupuncturist SMEs to participate in interviews over the phone or at their place of work. You will be asked questions regarding the tasks performed on your job and the knowledge base needed to perform the various tasks.

Workshops – Throughout the upcoming 2014 year, we will need your participation in workshops. You will be asked to work in a group to review the tasks and knowledge base for the Acupuncturist profession and determine whether the information presented is accurate. The workshops will be held at OPEs in the North Natomas area.

How do you sign up?

Click Here https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/Acupuncture_SME_Application to sign up to be a subject matter expert for the 2013 Occupational Analysis.

The online sign-up form will ask for your contact information (e.g., name, email, phone number) and your availability and interest in participating in the Occupational Analysis. You will be able to indicate interest in multiple phases of the OA and will be contacted with further information once you have been selected for a particular process.
