3 4. Section 4928.1, of the Code states:

4 “Protection of the public shall be the highest priority for the Acupuncture Board in 5 exercising its licensing, regulatory, and disciplinary functions. Whenever the protection of the 6 public is inconsistent with other interests sought to be promoted, the protection of the public shall 7 be paramount.”

8 5. Section 4927, subdivision (d), of the Code states:

9 “‘Acupuncture’ means the stimulation of a certain point or points on or near the surface of 10 the body by the insertion of needles to prevent or modify the perception of pain or to normalize 11 physiological functions, including pain control, for the treatment of certain diseases or 12 dysfunctions of the body and includes the techniques of electroacupuncture, cupping, and 13 moxibustion.”

14 6. Section 4937 of the Code states:

15 “An acupuncturist’s license authorizes the holder thereof:

16 “(a) To engage in the practice of acupuncture.

17 “(b) To perform or prescribe the use of Asian massage, acupressure, breathing techniques, 18 exercise, heat, cold, magnets, nutrition, diet, herbs, plant, animal, and mineral products, and 19 dietary supplements to promote, maintain, and restore health. Nothing in this section prohibits

21 practitioner from performing, or prescribing the use of any modality listed in this subdivision.

22 “(c) For purposes of this section, a ‘magnet’ means a mineral or metal that produces a

6 “Unprofessional conduct shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

7 “. . .”

8 “(c) False or misleading advertising.

9 “(i) Any action or conduct that would have warranted the denial of the acupuncture
10 license.

11 “. . .”

12 8. Section 4955.1 states, in pertinent part:

13 “The board may deny, suspend, revoke, or impose probationary conditions upon the license 14 of any acupuncturist if he or she is guilty of committing a fraudulent act including, but not be

27 10. Section 651 of the Code states:

28 “(a) It is unlawful for any person licensed under this division or under any initiative act

1 referred to in this division to disseminate or cause to be disseminated any form of public
2 communication containing a false, fraudulent, misleading, or deceptive statement, claim, or image
3 for the purpose of or likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the rendering of professional services
4 or furnishing of products in connection with the professional practice or business for which he or 5 she is licensed. A "public communication" as used in this section includes, but is not limited to,
6 communication by means of mail, television, radio, motion picture, newspaper, book, list or

8 “(g) Any violation of this section by a person so licensed shall constitute good cause for

22 before the public in this state, or to make or disseminate or cause to be made or disseminated
23 from this state before the public in any state, in any newspaper or other publication, or any 24 advertising device, or by public outcry or proclamation, or in any other manner or means
25 whatever, including over the Internet, any statement, concerning that real or personal property or 26 those services, professional or otherwise, or concerning any circumstance or matter of fact
27 connected with the proposed performance or disposition thereof, which is untrue or misleading, 28 and which is known, or which by the exercise of reasonable care should be known, to be untrue or

1 misleading, or for any person, firm, or corporation to so make or disseminate or cause to be so
2 made or disseminated any such statement as part of a plan or scheme with the intent not to sell
3 that personal property or those services, professional or otherwise, so advertised at the price
4 stated therein, or as so advertised. Any violation of the provisions of this section is a
5 misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a 6 fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or by both that imprisonment and 7 fine.”

8 12. California Code of Regulations 1399.455 states:

9 “(a) A licensed acupuncturist may advertise the provision of any acupuncture services
10 authorized to be provided by such licensure in a manner authorized by Section 651 of the code so
11 long as such advertising does not promote the excessive or unnecessary use of such services.

12 “(b) It is improper advertising as provided in Section 4955 of the code to disseminate any 13 advertising which represents in any manner that the acupuncturist can cure any type of disease,

15 “(c) It is improper advertising as provided in Section 4955 of the code to disseminate any 16 advertising of a practice, technique or procedure which is not within the scope of the practice of 17 acupuncture as defined in Section 4927 and 4937 of the code and which is the unlawful practice
18 of medicine.”

19 COST RECOVERY

20 13. Section 4959 of the Code states:

21 “(a) The board may request the administrative law judge, under his or her proposed 22 decision in resolution of a disciplinary proceeding before the board, to direct any licensee found
23 guilty of unprofessional conduct to pay to the board a sum not to exceed actual and reasonable 24 costs of the investigation and prosecution of the case.

25 “(b) The costs to be assessed shall be fixed by the administrative law judge and shall not in 26 any event be increased by the board. When the board does not adopt a proposed decision and 27 remands the case to an administrative law judge, the administrative law judge shall not increase 28 the amount of any costs assessed in the proposed decision.

1 20. Patient 1 refused to make an appointment and Respondent said “You are a bad
2 mother, not care about your unborn baby, your body has too many virus.”

3 Patient M.Z.

4 21. In April, 2010, M.Z.,¹ became ill, lost her sense of smell, and consequently made an
5 appointment to see Respondent for treatment. At the appointment after M.Z. described her
6 symptoms to Respondent, he cut pieces of her hair and placed three strands of hair into three
7 separate packets labeled “A,” “B” and “C”.

8 22. Respondent then told M. Z. to press her tongue against the roof of her mouth, while 9 holding two hair packets between her middle and index finger while she listened to music through 10 headphones for approximately two minutes.

11 23. Respondent instructed M.Z. to repeat this procedure for three minutes while wearing 12 sunglasses.

13 24. Respondent then told M.Z. to hold two hair packets while she pressed another finger
14 against various tiny bottles labeled with names of different viruses. While M.Z. followed these 15 instructions Respondent told her to pinch her right thumb and index finger together as he 16 attempted to separate them. Respondent explained to M.Z. that he was checking her “DNA” and 17 if he had a hard time separating her fingers it meant she had a virus.

18 25. Respondent then told M.Z. she had a virus which required medication and treatment.

19 26. When M.Z. refused Respondent’s medication and treatment, Respondent told her “. .
20 .the virus could spread to your heart or head.”

21 Patient B.L.

22 27. In June, 2012, B.L., who was troubled with various allergies, made an appointment
23 with Respondent. Respondent told B.L. he would utilize a DNA test to determine the source of 24 his allergies.

25
26
27

¹ The name of the student is abbreviated to protect her privacy rights. The name will be provided to 28 Respondent upon written request for discovery.

1 28. Respondent instructed B.L. to touch a book, an egg, and peanuts, with his left hand,
2 and put his thumb and middle finger together while Respondent attempted to pull them apart.
3 Respondent told B.L. if Respondent could separate his fingers, this meant he had been diagnosed
4 as having an allergy.

5 29. Respondent wanted to charge B.L. additional money to perform another test which 6 required B.L. to hold a cup, but B.L. refused this test.

7 30. Respondent told B.L. he required treatment which would cost $100 per treatment.
8 Respondent did not perform any acupuncture and B.L. left Respondent's office without having 9 any treatment.

10 Investigation

11 31. During the Board's investigation of this matter a Department of Consumer Affairs
12 Division of Investigations Investigator interviewed Respondent. Respondent stated he practices
13 acupuncture and uses oriental medical techniques to determine the cause(s) of a patient's illness.

14 32. Respondent stated he uses the B-Digital O-Ring test with his patients which he 15 learned at an acupuncture seminar eight years ago.

16 33. Respondent stated the B-Digital O-Ring test involves cutting a patient's hair, having a 17 patient listen to music, and having a patient hold their fingers together while he attempts to 18 separate the fingers.

19 34. Respondent stated each of these actions allows him to utilize the B-Digital O-Ring 20 test to diagnose his patients.

21 35. Respondent stated the diagnosis he makes through utilizing the B-Digital O-Ring test
22 provides him with information to write prescriptions for Chinese herbs.

23 36. Respondent stated he charges $60 for the initial patient evaluation, and charges up to 24 $300 for patient treatments.

25 37. Respondent stated he advertises his business in certain Chinese language newspapers.

26 38. During the interview, Respondent listened to a radio advertisement in Chinese from 27 2013, and confirmed this was his authorized advertisement.

28 39. Respondent was asked if the radio advertisement stated he was able to treat cancer

1 and he said, “No.”

2 40. Respondent was asked if he had ever advertised the ability to treat cancer and he said,
3 “No.”

4 41. Respondent was asked if he had ever advertised the ability to cure cancer and he said,
5 “No.”

6 42. Respondent was asked if he had ever advertised a cure for cancer and he said, “No.”

7 43. During the investigation, Respondent’s printed Chinese advertisements were 8 translated from Chinese to English. Respondent’s printed advertisements state he is a “Doctor of 9 Otolaryngology” whose treatment methods included removing a patient’s DNA to determine the 10 source of a virus.

11 44. Respondent’s printed advertisements state he also offers patients “. . . a new method
12 to treat allergy by combining DNA technique and TCM point. . . [sic].”

13 45. Respondent’s radio advertisement was translated from Chinese to English.
14 Respondent’s radio advertisement introduces Respondent and states that by using a toothbrush,
15 saliva and hair, the cause of illness can be found in a few minutes.

16 46. Respondent’s radio advertisement states that Respondent uses the digital optics
17 principal recognized by the medical community to examine DNA to determine the cause and 18 treatment of illness.

19 47. Respondent’s radio advertisement states Respondent has utilized the digital optics 20 principal to treat innumerable autoimmune diseases.

21 48. Respondent’s radio advertisement states that Respondent has utilized the digital 22 optics principal to treat cancers.

23 49. The standard of care requires an acupuncturist to formulate a Traditional Chinese 24 Medicine (TCM) diagnosis and treatment plan during the patient’s initial intake interview. The 25 acupuncturist must obtain a full medical history from the patient.

26 50. When treating a patient who suffers from allergies, the standard of care in TCM
27 requires the acupuncturist to prepare a treatment plan which includes identifying specific 28 acupuncture points and herbal prescriptions to treat the patient’s allergies.

1 51. The standard of care also requires the acupuncturist to educate the patient about their 2 condition and obtain the patient's consent to begin utilizing acupuncture needles during 3 acupuncture treatment.

4 52. The standard of care requires an acupuncturist to practice legitimate TCM
5 acupuncture techniques in which the acupuncturist has been trained.

6 53. The standard of care requires that an acupuncturist treat patients when the 7 acupuncturist is equipped to do so. TCM does not train acupuncturists to identify viruses, nor 8 does it equip them to do so.

9 54. Respondent failed to conform to the applicable standard of care for an acupuncturist
10 in his care and treatment of his patients Patient 1, M.Z., and B.L. because he failed to perform a 11 complete and accurate diagnosis utilizing TCM for his patients.

12 55. Respondent failed to conform to the applicable standard of care for an acupuncturist
13 in his care and treatment of his patients Patient 1, M.Z., and B.L. because he failed to formulate 14 a treatment plan which included the identification of specific acupuncture points and herbal 15 prescriptions to treat the patients' conditions.

16 56. Respondent failed to conform to the applicable standard of care for an acupuncturist
17 in his care and treatment of his patients Patient 1, M.Z., and B.L. because he failed to use the 18 legitimate TCM acupuncture techniques in which he had been trained.

19 57. Respondent failed to conform to the applicable standard of care for an acupuncturist
20 in his care and treatment of his patients Patient 1, M.Z., and B.L. because he claimed to be able to 21 diagnose a virus, although as an acupuncturist he was not trained to identify or treat viruses.

22 58. Respondent's care and treatment of Patient 1 as set forth above includes the following
23 acts and/or omissions which constitute extreme departures from the standard of practice:

24 A. Respondent's failure to carry out a Traditional Chinese Medicine diagnostic process
25 during Patient 1's appointment.

26 B. Respondent's failure to take a medical history or followed the TCM diagnosis standard 27 procedure of reading the pulse or tongue.

28 C. Respondent's statement to Patient 1 that he diagnosed her skin rash from her holding

1 a sample of her hair, which is not a TCM diagnosis standard practice.

2 D. Respondent's statement to Patient 1 that a treatment for her rash was to hold a piece
3 of her hair in her hand while listening to music, which is not a TCM treatment.

4 59. Respondent's care and treatment of M.Z. as set forth above includes the following
5 acts and/or omissions which constitute extreme departures from the standard of practice:

6 A. Respondent's failure to carry out a Traditional Chinese Medicine diagnostic process
7 during M.Z.'s appointment.

8 B. Respondent's statement that he was able to diagnose a virus for the patient when he 9 was neither trained nor equipped to do so.

10 C. Respondent's statement that he could diagnose M.Z.'s illness from a sample of her 11 hair.

12 60. Respondent's care and treatment of B.L. as set forth above includes the following acts
13 and/or omissions which constitute extreme departures from the standard of practice:

14 A. Respondent's failure to carry out a Traditional Chinese Medicine diagnostic process
15 during Patient B.L.'s appointment.

16 B. Respondent's statement that he could diagnosis B.L.'s allergy by separating B.L.'s 17 fingers.

18 61. The standard of care requires an acupuncturist to practice legitimate TCM
19 acupuncture techniques in which the acupuncturist has been trained. Use of the O-Ring test is not 20 a legitimate acupuncture technique and Respondent's use of the test constituted gross negligence.

21 62. The standard of care requires an acupuncturist to refrain from using false and 22 misleading advertising. The use of false and misleading statements within an advertisement is 23 outside the scope of legitimate acupuncture practice and Respondent's conduct in this regard 24 constitutes gross negligence.

25 SECOND CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

26 (Repeated Negligent Acts)

27 63. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 4955.2, subdivision (b), of
